Miskwabi growth planned

Miskwabi Lake may be filled with cottages to capacity but there still might be the opportunity for some more land being developed.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said at Monday's council meeting that there has to be some use for the frontage on the lake. He noted that there is a proposal to develop large lots with about 1,000 feet of lake frontage.

Two employees of the Ministry of Housing were at the council meeting.

Reeve Fearrey suggested that a policy should be established in this case to help deal with other lakes. Although the ministry representatives felt that individual policies should be set for each area.

The ministry representatives suggested that the change would have to first be brought before the Ministries of Environment and Natural Resources for their approval because these two bodies were responsible for the designation of the lake as at capacity.

Reeve Fearrey noted that if the lake is at capacity the council must concur.

The change in planning for the area will mean an amendment in the official plan for the area. The ministry representatives pointed out that some statement concerning the capacity of the lake will also have to be put in the plan.

Nurses concerned

The public health nurses in the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge districts are concerned that a continuance of the lockout will delay the giving of the swine vaccine in the area.

A release from the nurses association states, "It is the public health department and the public health nurses who are responsible for the distribution of the vaccine on a province-wide level."

"The vaccine is supposed to be ready by the beginning of September. How will the public receive this when public health nurses are still locked out?" the release says.

The release goes on to say that the board of health refuses to let the public health nurses back to work, even though the nurses have always been willing to work on the basis of last year's contract until this year's has been settled.

"The nurses feel that the logical solution to this impasse is to sent the dispute to arbitration. The board of health, however, appear to prefer denying nursing services to the public by prolonging the lockout situation," the release states.

Keep off the roads

People in the Kennisis Lake area will have to keep their cars off the roads in the winter if they hope to have the snow plowed properly.

Representatives of landowners from the lake were told by Dysart Council Monday that it is important for the cottage owners to dig out part of their driveways to get the cars off the road.

It was also suggested that there be no parking on the hills during winter.

Wig-A-Mog best float in parade

Wig-A-Mog Inn took its own trophy home from the Haliburton Rotary Carnival as the best entry in the parade.

Marjorie Windover of Minden showed what a little luck can do and got to drive home in a 1976 Hornet first prize in the annual draw.

The best boys and girls float went to Camp Wanakita. They were awarded the Texaco trophy. Haliburton Scout Reserve was second and Camp White Pine was third.

The best lodge trophy went to Locarno on the Lake while Drag Lake finished second.

The Esso trophy for the top merchants float went to Curry Motors. Allsaw General Store finished second and Haliburton Marine was third.

In the special category Haliburton Library was first, Extendicare second and Haliburton Ladies Softball team was third.

Nesbitt team wins at Little Britain draw

LeRoy Nesbitt's, of Minden, heavy horse team, drew 8,425 pounds over the full 20 foot course to win the final class in the Little Britain Horse Draw.

Nesbitt's team edged out Ken McNeely of Kempville who's team drew 8,425 pounds over 19 feet nine inches. Third place went to Jack Batty of Coboconk who's team drew 7,675 pounds over five feet nine inches. George McLean's team from Little Britain drew 6,550 pounds over four feet five inches for fourth place. Bob Danford's team from Stirling drew 5,425 pounds 15 feet one inch for fifth place.

Jim Chynoweth of Norland took top prize in the open team of ponies when his team pulled 3,550 pounds the full 20 feet. Second place went to Byard Greer's team from Norland pulling the 3,550 pounds six inches. Douglas Ellery's team from Fenelon Falls pulled 2,800 pounds 13 feet seven inches to finish third. Fourth went to William Edwards' team from Marmora drawing 2,800 pounds 10 feet 10 inches. Fifth place went to the Laughlin Keeler team from Manillar pulling 2,800 pounds three feet three inches.

A second Byard Greer team finished sixth drawing 2,800 pounds two feet eight inches. Seventh place went to 11-year-old Jimmie Chynoweth of Norland whose team did not qualify for the first round.

In the light division of the draft horse class McNeely's team of black Percherons successfully drew 8,050 pounds the full 20 feet. John Lawrenson's team from Havelock drew 8,050 pounds 19 feet to finish second. Murray Cowan's team from Haliburton drew 7,675 pounds 18 feet nine inches for third spot. Fourth place went to the Douglas Coad team from Lindsay drawing 7,675 pounds three feet 10 inches. The Jack Ryan team from Norwood drew 7,675 pounds two feet four inches for fifth place. Sixth place went to the Clarence Plumbtree team from Lindsay drawing 6,925 pounds 14 feet two inches. The Udo Hoqueschultz Gormley team drew 6,925 pounds eight feet three inches for seventh place. Eighth place went to the Danford team drawing 6,925 pounds eight feet. A second Danford team drew 6,925 pounds six feet six inches for ninth place. Bert McFeeters' team from Cannington finished 10th by drawing 6,925 pounds four feet six inches. The Chynoweth team finished 11th drawing 5,800 pounds five feet three inches. Murray Clifford's team from Havelock was 12th.

The type of draw that was held is known as an elimination draw. A skid is loaded with a number of cement blocks, all of equal weight, and each teamster is allowed three tries to draw the load a distance of twenty feet, within a time limit of five minutes. When each team has had a opportunity to draw the first load, more blocks are added to the skid and those who successfully pulled the first load the required distance are given a chance at the second. The contest continues in this fashion until all but one team has been eliminated. The Team that draws the heaviest load the farthest distance (maximum of twenty feet for each load) is declared the winner.

Sewage system has been a long wait

The citizens of Haliburton are starting to wonder just how long it will before the second phase of the local sanitary sewage system is started.

This has been a long wait and the local council keep telling us that it should be started in the early part of next year.

It would appear that the holdup stems with the Provincial Government who under their austerity programme just have not got the funds to do all this work in Ontario at one time. We understand that Haliburton is one on the first on the list to receive the money to finish this sewage project when it becomes available.

A survey has been taken with the people who will be affected in this second phase and it has been pointed out that there is a real need for the completion of this project. Many people have really serious sewage problems and are looking forward to the day when the line runs by there homes.

The municipal council are doing everything in their power to hurry up this second phase and we hope that they don't let up as it is really needed.

Carnival successful

In this week's editorial we would like to make some comments on the Haliburton Rotary Club parade which was held last Wednesday night.

Without a doubt it was one of the best parades in the long history of the local Rotary Club lacking only in the sound of music. The parade needed about two more bands to really put the icing on the cake.

The big parade also drew one of the largest crowds that we have seen in town for many a moon. It seemed to us that every local resident from Haliburton County plus all our summer visitors turned out in mass for this evening.

One of the disappointing features of this year's parade once again was the lack of participation by the local lodges and resorts. Only three lodges took time out to put floats in the parade. This is a very poor showing.

The annual Rotary Club summer parade and carnival was originally and in the beginning started for the amusement of our summer visitors and for those staying at the local lodges. At that time the lodges all had floats in the parade but in recent years there floats have been missing from these parades.

Now let's look forward to next year in the hope that the local resorts will come through with some beautiful floats for this annual parade.

In closing let's take a moment out to congratulate the Rotary Club of Haliburton who once again came through with a top notch performance at this year's annual parade and carnival.

As others see it

The position of the monarchy in Canada should be considered strengthened by the Olympics visit of Queen Elizabeth.

It is a peculiar position like many things in Canada a maze of contradictions.

There is little outright opposition to the monarchical system, few demands that Canada become a republic. There is strong and vocal support, although the numbers of the supporters seem to be diminishing.

Those are the two extremes. The majority of Canadians seem to share the view expressed long ago by Prime Minister Trudeau, that the question of the monarchy is low on the priority list of Canadian concerns.

To the great number of Canadians who don't claim either British or French descent, the monarchy tends to be an automatic part of Canada, the same as the Senate, the dollar, and hockey. This probably accounts for the large percentage of "no opinion" or "don't care" answers that any poll on the monarchy would turn up.

The Queen's visit, however, may have a significant effect on this apathetic attitude.

First, here Bicentennial visit to the U.S. showed Canada one great thing - that Americans are strong for the British monarchy. The warm welcome the Queen received in the U.S. may be partly due to American disillusionment with American government. Still it may say something to Canadians about the virtue of having a head of state who is above politics.

More important is the effect on Quebec of the Queen's visit.

The time in Montreal and Kingston passed without an ugly incident, despite fears of trouble. The presence of royalty was generally down-played. Yet the public response showed that the Queen is welcome in Quebec, something that was not so certain in past visits.

From a Quebec standpoint, probably the most important part of the visit was the Queen's only formal speech. It undoubtedly had the approval, if not the literal inspiration, of the Queen's Canadian advisers - Prime Minister Trudeau and his cabinet. But it was spoken by the Queen, and it makes good sense for Canada.

Speaking of Canada's raging language controversy, she said this country can build an entente cordiale based on "an enduring belief in the encouragement of human diversity and an acceptance of the rights of others to be fully and proudly themselves."

To reach the goal, the Queen continued, needs "a generosity of spirit, an openness of mind, and the wisdom to try to understand and appreciate other people."

They were not ringing words to take their place in history. Canadian prime ministers, commenting on Canadian affairs, have done much better.

But they were appropriate words, addressed to both language groups at a time when neither is showing any great generosity of spirit or openness of mind. And they had the authority of a queen.

Bill Smiley

Every so often I am reminded of how lucky Canadians are. We are not smarter than other people. Goodness knows, we are no more industrious. We are just luckier, because we happen to be living in this country at this time.

When you consider that we are just a drop in the bucket of the world's population, you can see just how blind lucky we are.

Millions of people on earth today are literally starving to death. They will be dead, stone dead, in days, months, a year.

Millions more are just above the starving line. They eke out a barren, blunted, hopeless existence, just one step away from the animal.

These hordes are subject to all the other things that go with a minimal existence, besides hunger: cold, disease, ignorance, fear, and perhaps worst of all, helplessness.

And we complain endlessly, we Canadians, about such horrors as inflation, postal strikes, taxes, and all other relatively piddling burdens we bear.

We howl with outrage when butter jumps 15 cents a pound. Some of us nearly have a stroke when the price of beer and liquor is raised. The very wealthy feel a deep, inner pain because they can retain only 55 percent of their income.

But what does it all amount to? The consumption of butter will go down for a few weeks, then rise to new highs. The consumption of alcoholic beverages will not even tremor, but go steadily upward. And the rich will become richer.

Talk about fat cats, or buxon beavers, and we're it. The Lucky Canadians. The envy of the world.

Oh, yes, we have poor people, quite a few of them. But you would be hard put to it to find anyone in Canada literally starving to death. Or freezing to death. Or dying because there is no medicine for disease.

Truth is, the vast majority of Canadians eat too much, suffer from over-heating rather than cold and are much more likely to die from too much medicine than they are from disease.

And even the poorest of our poor, with all the buffers that welfare provides, are materially millionaires compared with the poor of many other countries.

You, Mister, wheeling your Buick down the highway and beefing about the cost of gas, might just as easily be pulling a rickshaw in Calcutta, wondering whether you could last until you were 30, so you could see your first grandson.

And you, Ms., whining about the mess the hairdresser made, or complaining about the cost of cleaning women, could be selling yourself in the back streets of Nairobi to keep body and soul together, if you'll pardon the expression.

But you aren't, and I'm not, and we shouldn't forget it, mates. We were lucky. We live in Canada.

Once in a while this hits me like a punch between the eyes. One of these times was on a recent holiday weekend.

We were spending a weekend with Grandad, in the country. I spent one of those lazy, thoroughly enjoyable times when there is nothing to do and nothing to worry about: eating and drinking, playing cards, enjoying the fireplace, reading, watching television.

The only fly in the ointment was the constant decisions to be made. At breakfast, for example. Banana or fruit juice? Coffee or tea? Bacon and eggs or ham and eggs? Toast and jam or fresh bread, and honey?

Evenings were even worse. An hour after dinner, I had to decide whether it was to be coffee and cake with ice cream or tea with butter tarts. Then there was the bedtime snack and more decisions.

But it was watching television that blew up the puffed-up dream that life was, after all, good and gracious, cosy and comfortable, warm and wonderful.

There on the "news" with nothing to hide it, was the non-Canadian world. Children with the bloated bellies and stick-thin limbs of the starving. Other children, torn and bleeding and screaming with pain.

Mothers howling their anguish because they had lost their children and couldn't find them.

And everywhere, on that naked screen, people, suffering, terrified, running like rats, from nowhere to nowhere.

Not much you and I can do, except feel horrified. It's all too far away.

But at least we can stop bitching in our own backyard, and face the facts that we're not smarter, or harder working or better looking. Just lucky.

Haliburton Highlights

Congratulations to Mrs. Peter Windover who was the winner of the 1976 Hornet Hatchback car at the draw held at the Haliburton Rotary Carnival last Wednesday night.

John Rouble former principal of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was a recent speaker at a Haliburton Rotary Club meeting. Mr. Rouble spoke about his new position as Superintendent of Education in Haldeman County. He stated that part of his job would include the evaluation of teachers, the hiring and dismissal of staff and the development of curriculum. We wish John the best in his new position.

The world famous Carlesberg Championship team and wagon made a big hit with all those who attended the Haliburton Rotary Club parade. This was certainly one of the biggest highlights of this year's parade.

If you enjoy dancing why not drop out to Carnarvon Lanes this coming Saturday evening and dance to the music of Shade. Admission is only $2.50 per person.

There was certainly a lack of music in this year's Haliburton Rotary Club parade but our congratulations to the one and only band the Haliburton Legion Pipe band who did a bang up job.

Pat Flannery, who is connected with the Haliburton Hockey Haven was telling us the other day that he has had an offer to be the Assistant Manager of the Cleveland Barons of the National Hockey League.

Pick a pan that fits the element on your stove, says Ontario Hydro. This will avoid waste heat escaping. Keeping the lid on a pan results in faster heating.

May we remind all those in the Municipality of Dysart that the August 2nd, Civic Holiday has been changed to September 20th.

Slim Andrews is headlining the entertainment at the Beaconbrook Motor Hotel this week.

In our opinion an excellent project for the Rotary Club of Haliburton would be to put up lights at the tennis courts at Haliburton. Many people we have been talking with would love to place tennis in the evening.

Robert Sutton former principal of the Haliburton Continuation School was a visitor in town last week.

The 1976 summer season is gradually drawing to a conclusion. There's still plenty of good weather ahead so why not come on up and join us under the summer sun here in the Highlands of Haliburton.

Gary Burk of Haliburton will be the guest speaker when the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen hold their monthly Communion and Breakfast at St. Margaret's Anglican Church in Wilberforce this coming Sunday morning August 15th at 8:00 a.m. Anyone wishing a ride be at the local church parking lot at 7:15 a.m.

NOTICE OF MEETING

The Commission to Review Proposals for Property Tax Reform in Ontario

A public meeting for residents of Haliburton County and Muskoka and Parry Sound districts will be held on September 1, 1976 at 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., at Huntsville High School Gymnasium, 58 Brunel Road, Huntsville, to receive submissions, both oral and written, from local government representatives, property taxpayers and all other interested parties, concerning the proposals that have been put forward by the Government of Ontario as a means of establishing a new system of property taxation based on market value assessment.

This meeting is one of a series which the Commission is conducting throughout Ontario this summer and fall, before submitting its recommendations to the government.

The proposals, originally published in the 1976 Ontario Budget, Budget Paper E, entitled Reform of Property Taxation in Ontario, are as follows:

1. Residences in Ontario, collectively, will bear a reduced share of property taxes.
2. Residential property will be redefined to include only residences and a reasonable amount of land.
3. The present practice of levying different mill rates on residential and commercial properties will be discontinued.
4. Farmland, farm buildings, managed forests and farm residences will be assessed at market value. Farmland, farm buildings and managed forests will be taxed at 100 percent of market value and the taxes will be paid by the Province. Farm residences will be taxed as all other residences at 50 percent of market value and the taxes will be paid by the owner. There will be provision to recover taxes paid by the Province if the property changes use.
5. All real property used for the purpose of a business including government administrative facilities will be subject to an additional assessment of 50 percent of market value for business taxes.
6. All public property except residences will be subject to payments in lieu of taxes equal to full taxes at 100 percent of market value. Public residences will be subject to payments in lieu of taxes equivalent to full taxes at 50 percent of market value. Public utilities will be subject to business assessment at 50 percent of market value.
7. As is the present case, churches, cemeteries, and property held in trust for a band or body of Indians will be exempt. All other presently exempt property will be taxed at 100 percent of market value, except residences which will be taxed at 50 percent of market value.
8. A uniform method of phasing-in the new tax system over a period of up to five years will be available to prevent abrupt tax changes.
9. Assessment rolls will be returned and enumeration will be performed every two years to coincide with local government elections.
10. Assessment on provincial government property will be pooled and assigned between the public and separate elementary schools in the same proportion as the taxable assessment assigned by the owners and occupants of residences.
11. Costs shared among municipalities will be shared on the basis of the assessment on which taxes and payments in lieu of taxes are based.
12. Where assessment is to be used to determine the grant to be paid to a municipality, the assessment used will be the assessment on which taxes and payments in lieu of taxes are based.
13. The provisions of The Assessment Act will apply to the assessment of all real property in Ontario, including areas without municipal organizations.
14. Public bodies which receive provincial grants, such as school boards, will be allowed to include their property tax payments as allowable expenses for grant purposes.
15. Ontario's property tax credits which relate property taxes to the ability to pay will, if necessary, be strengthened upon implementation of the new system.

Copies of Budget Paper E containing background and explanatory information, in addition to the proposals themselves, may be obtained, free of charge, from regional assessment offices or from Mr. Lawrence Close, Executive Secretary, Commission on Property Tax Reform, Fifth Floor, Frost Building South, Queen's Park, Toronto M7A 1Y7, telephone (416) 965-9300. If you plan to appear and present a written or oral submission, please notify Mr. Close in advance, by letter or telephone. We would also appreciate receiving one copy of any written submission, prior to the meeting.

Since the purpose of these meetings is to help ensure that the new taxation system is implemented in an efficient and equitable manner, the Commission hopes that all Ontario residents with opinions and suggestions to offer will manage to make their representations to us.

Wedding held at Oshawa church

On Saturday, April 17th, 1976, in Kingsview United Church, Oshawa, Reverend J.T. Irwin united in marriage, Judy Heather Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Bradley, Oshawa and Norman Dale Howe, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Bertrem Howe, Haliburton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of nylon over tafetta, fashioned with a square neckline and full bishop sleeves. The bodice was designed with cluney lace and the full skirt flowed through to a chapel train. A flowered headpiece held a shoulder length veil, and she carried a cascade bouquet of roses, carnations and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was Miss Deborah Shearer, Newcastle, cousin of the bride and the bridesmaids Misses Susan Stamp, Oshawa and Linda Newbitt, Bowmanville. Flower girls were Misses Lynn and Lisa McLean.

Best man was Mr. David Nimigon, Toronto, and the ushers were Messers Bruce Bradley, Oshawa, brother of the bride, and Bill Hanthorn, Val Caron, brother of the groom.

Use hot water wisely Save energy...Save money

Apart from home heating, a family usually consumes the most energy in producing hot water. Here are just a few small things you can do, that can add up to a considerable energy saving. Turn off hot water taps so they don't drip, fill clothes washers to match the size of the load, wait until you have a full load before using a dishwasher and remember showers usually require less hot water than baths. Try not to use more hot water than you need.

Cascade

The Cascade electric water heater will give you a dependable supply of hot water, but it's up to you to use it wisely.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

We wish to acknowledge the coverage of the Lake Miskwabi Cottagers' Association annual meeting in the July 28, 1976 edition of the Echo.

One item was incorrect which we would like to see corrected ie original report "He (Mr. Fearrey) was asked a number of questions including the development of roads inclusion of Long Lake in highway markings in Haliburton County, etc."

Should read "He was asked a number of questions including the development of roads, inclusion of Long Lake in the Dysart official plan and delay in Highway markings in Haliburton County etc."

It is regrettable that when we are approaching mid-August and centre line line markings in the county are still incomplete. This is particularly hazardous for the Friday night cottagers' traffic. It is to be noted that highways in Victoria County the south were marked in mid-May.

It will be nice to see the job completed in time for the Labor Day weekend.

Thank You

J. Strickland, President
LaKE Miskwabi
Cottager's Association.

News from Extendicare Museum visitors

by Charles Plewman

I BELIEVE IN THE EQUALITY OF MAN; AND I BELIEVE THAT RELIGIOUS DUTIES CONSIST IN DOING JUSTICE, LOVING MERCY, AND ENDEAVORING TO MAKE OUR FELLOW-CREATURES HAPPY.
Thomas Paine:

Shut-ins miss their contact with the outside world. The permanent nature of their illness can be discouraging. No where is "being your brother's keeper" more pertinent. We cannot name all of our visitors-they are too many, but here are a few of the more regular ones. Mrs. Davidson and her daughter Emily, to see Mrs. Emily Davidson; Gordon Griffin, to see his wife Vera; Mrs. Black, to see Mrs. Pritchard; Mr. & Mrs. E. Brohm, to see the Plewmans.

Most of us here have shot our bolt. The world in which we once were so involved now rushes by our doors. As we look back, it seems "A Long Way To Tipperary" and like the words of the song we can say, "but my heart is right there". All us of us have chalked up successes and failures. The important thing, of course, is our batting average. Has it been good or bad. Once we thought in terms of months or years, now we live a day at a time.

Recently the powers-that-be have got around to doing more landscaping. Trees and bushes have been planted and additional soil brought in. When completed, the area will take on a nice park-like appearance.

Miss Elston reports that the staff of Hyland Crest and Extendicare, along with Public Health and V.O.N. Nurses, met here on Wednesday afternoon, July 28th, to receive a lecture on the motivation and activation of Senior Citizens by Mrs. Elaine Baillie. Mrs. Baillie is well qualified to speak on this subject and gave a good though provoking address, following which there was a general discussion. Mrs. Baillie is a consultant on the staff of the Ministry of Health at Queen's Park.

On Wednesday, July 28th, we held a picnic at the Rotary Park. From the standpoint of a bus ride, it was the shortest on record. When we arrived we found the younger generation out in force frolicking in the water and cycling around the ground. We, that is 30 of us, made up the older generation. It was a case of the old and the new, the past and the present. The weather was sunny but a trifle cool in the shade. After enjoying hot dogs, fruit and drinks, we called it a day. Stuart Belisle was helpful in looking after the chores.

Mr. James Cooper, of the Gideons, took charge of our Devotional Period on Friday, July 30th, assisted by his daughter Judy at the piano. The theme of his talk was "Praise the Lord". This we should do not only at stated times, but continuously. It should be a part of our way of life. He ended his remarks by saying, and I quote, "the more Christians praise the Lord, the more the world would doubt Him less."

Wednesday, August 4th, was a nice sunny day. We sat down to a barbequed lunch of hot dogs, relishes, salads and watermelon. It was also Rotary's Carnival Day. At the last moment Judy Bedford and Pat Cummings decide we should participate in the parade under the special entry category. Our troop consisted of Jake Gill, Mel Petrant and Flora Walling who were our resident participants. Wheelchairs were decked out in bows and pulled by Olympic Runners. We wish to thank Kathy Darby, Dawn Cummings, Kelly Cummings, Pauline Anderson, Jane Jeffereys, Ursula Palivich, Doug Bedford and Charles Bedford for their help in decorating and parading with the residents in the parade. To cap it all off, we were awarded 2nd prize in our category. As a result, the "Happy Gang" treasury is now richer by a cash contribution from the troop.

The Rev. Glen Rosch, of the Full Gospel Light House, took charge of our Devotional Period on Friday, August 6th. He spoke on Jesus and the woman of Samaria and the water of life that satisfies all needs. His good wife officiated at the piano and closed the meeting with prayer.

We are indebted to the La Rue Bus Lines for their generosity in connection with our use of their buses. They have been most kind.

Latest arrival was Mrs. Lucy Woodcock, Haliburton.

"BE ASHAMED TO DIE UNTIL YOU HAVE WON SOME VICTORY FOR HUMANITY."

Horace Mann.

Swallows gone from Algonquin

Editor's note: The following has been taken from the Algonquin Provincial Park Raven a weekly publication of activities in the park.

We don't know anyone who hasn't stopped, at one time or another, to admire the grace and beauty of swallows. There are few creatures than can match these aerial midges in sheer elegance, let alone in effortless, buoyant flight.

And yet, because swallows are so common, we are probably all guilty, more often than not, of taking them for granted. We all note their arrival as soon as the ice goes out in the spring, but very quickly we accept them as part of the everyday Park scenery and only suddenly realize one day that "all the swallows have gone".

Now it may come as a surprise, but that day isn't very far off. As we write this, Barn Swallows still have young in the nest (their second brood of the year), but our four other common species have all finished nesting and are now flocking up. In fact, after next week, you won't see any Bank Swallows in the Park at all, and most of the others will disappear during the few weeks that follow.

In this day and age we all know that birds disappear because they migrate (usually all the way to South America in the case of our Algonquin swallows) and while we regret their departure, we don't find it particularly mysterious.

Once again, we are guilty of taking something for granted—this time the comparatively recent knowledge that even very small birds can and do fly thousands of miles each year. It was not so very long ago that most people thought such an idea was preposterous and everybody "knew" that swallows, for example, spent the winter buried in the mud at the bottom of lakes and rivers. Even the great English man of letters, Samuel Johnson, writing 200 years ago, said that "A number of them conglobulate together by flying round and round and then all in a heap throw themselves under the water". Today, we all smile at the quaint language and dismiss the supposed association of delicate, aerial swallows with cold, murky lake bottoms as totally ridiculous.

Actually, there are at least two reasons why we should not laugh at the idea. The first is that Sam and his contemporaries has some circumstantial evidence in support of their idea. Why, after all, should swallows always appear just after the ice goes out unless that was what enabled them to return, and why should swallows form such large flocks over water in late summer if they were not preparing to "take the plunge"?

The second reason for not laughing is that, crazy as it may seem, there really is a very close and vital link between swallows and lake bottoms. Since we would probably have no swallows at all without this link, it is well worth giving it a close look.

Why in fact, do swallows spend so much time skimming over the waves, or, put another way, why are the insects the swallows are obviously catching found in such great numbers out over open water? After all, there is nothing for an insect to eat out there. Well, if you can manage to get a good look at those insects you will see that they are midges—tiny mosquito-like creatures (don't worry, these don't bite) with long legs and antennae. In good light, and at certain times you can see tens, if not hundreds of thousands of them dancing in the air just above the lake surface. The reason they occur in such numbers over water is that they have just emerged to begin their adult life in the air after spending one or two years as worm-like larvae half-buried in the murky ooze on the bottom far below.

Many of the larvae are red and are given the rather gruesome name "bloodworms". They make a rather gruesome living too, down there in the sunless depths, because they feed on corpses—the tiny dead plants and animals that gently rain down the sunlit, productive zone just below the lake surface. There are many different kinds of midges, often 50 or more species in the same lake, and each one has its own preferred depth. Those that live in shallow water have plenty of company in the form of living plants and other insect larvae, but those found in the cold, deep parts of the lake are almost the only living things to be found there. As such, they are extremely important to lake trout, which in summer are confined to the cold depths and do not have access to the more varied and abundant food supply in the warmer, shallower sections of the lake.

The different midge species also emerge to the surface and adulthood at different times of the year. Some appear just after the ice goes out in the spring and they are what sustain the first swallows. More species emerge in June and early July, and these are used to feed hungry young swallows in the nest. The numbers of emerging species and individuals start to tail off at the end of July, and this helps explain why the swallows are already starting to "conglobulate".

The close and vital link between swallows and lake bottoms will soon be broken, forcing the swallows to leave on their long journey to South America. While there is still time, it might be an idea to stop and admire them—and also the intricate web of nature they depend on—just once more.

Report from Queen's Park

by John Eakins
M.P.P., Victoria-Haliburton

by Bob Stinson

The continuing saga of the missing Topographical Maps-and we hope the final edition. In spite of all our wonderful expectations the maps did not arrive last week and it was decided to phone Ottawa again. The first major decision was of course which of the collection of phone numbers we now had on hand should we start with. We phoned the order desk and found that although they were aware of the order they couldn't locate it and they would call us back. A call later that day from another member of the staff contained considerable apologies and explained that most everyone that had been involved in this problem was either sick or on holidays, but that he would see to it that the maps would be shipped by Purolator on Monday and we should have them Tuesday. At the rate we have been asked for them, I do hope we don't run out of them before next week's paper.

The Minden Rotary Club held their 3rd annual Blues and Jazz Festival at the Community Centre last week. Although the event failed to return a profit for the club, organizers Bill O'Brien and Bill Hutchison considered the affair a success and we agree. The 4,500 people in attendance were held spellbound by the talented entertainers and gave them two standing ovations. Bill O'Brien announced that they were applying for an "Win Ontario" grant for next year's Festival so they could enlarge on the programme without having to keep within the cost factors. We certainly hope they are successful and offer our support. The caliber of talent they have been able to bring to our county is indicative of the effort they have put forth.

As we reach the middle of August we find many tourist operators getting a little weary coming into the seventh inning stretch. We hope it does not reflect on our showing of hospitality to our visitors as the summer is all too short as it is. At the Chamber, plans are underway for a fall promotion campaign in hopes we can carry on more business in one of our most attractive seasons. A news letter will be mailed to all members shortly. Please give it your immediate attention as we will be running short on time.

At the moment we are knee deep in paper and ink working on our Community Telephone Directory which will include Dorset, Cardiff, and Bancroft. We hope to have it available shortly, and at only $1.00 per copy. This is one of the projects the Chamber has undertaken in order to stay solvent. As soon as the book is printed we will be announcing in this column, at what stores the book may be purchased.

SUMMER

MERCHANDISE

I would like take this opportunity go give you further information on the Government's Proposals for Tax Reform, in view of the fact that a Commission is conducting a series of meetings throughout the Province this summer and fall to review these proposals.

"All public property except residences will be subject to payments in lieu of taxes equal to full taxes at 100 per cent of market value. Public residences will be subject to payments in lieu of taxes equivalent to full taxes at 50 per cent of market value. Public utilities will be subject to business assessment at 50 per cent of market value.

"As is the present case, churches, cemeteries and property held in trust for a band or body of Indians will be exempt. All other presently exempt property will be taxed at 50 per cent of market value.

"A uniform method of phasing-in the new tax system over a period of up to five years will be available to prevent abrupt tax system over a period of up to five years will be available to prevent abrupt tax changes.

"Assessment rolls will be returned and enumeration will be performed every two years to coincide with local government elections.

"Assessment of provincial government property will be pooled and assigned between the public and separate elementary schools in the same proportion as the taxable assessment assigned by the owners and occupants of residences.

"Costs shared among municipalities will be shared on the basis of the assessment on which taxes and payments in lieu of taxes are based.

"Where assessment is to be used to determine the grant to be paid to a municipality, the assessment used will be the assessment on which taxes and payments in lieu of taxes are based.

"Where assessment is to be used to determine the grant to be paid to a municipality, the assessment used will be the assessment on which taxes and payments in lieu of taxes are based.

"The provisions of The Assessment Act will apply to the assessment of all real property in Ontario, including areas without municipal organization.

"Public bodies which receive provincial grants, such as school boards, will be allowed to include their property tax payments as allowable expenses for grant purposes.

Included in the Government's booklet on Property Tax Reform is a preliminary analysis of proposed reforms.

According to this analysis, "large tax shifts would occur if market value assessment were introduced and applied against the present property tax structure. This simply reflects the fact that the values of different types of properties have changed at different rates. For example, the market value of residences has increased more rapidly than the value of most business properties. Also, the market value of multiple rental residence. And the greatest escalation in market value has occurred for vacant lands.

"As reassessment has progressed, the impact of potential tax shifts has been analysed by the Province. In particular, the Region of Niagara has been extensively analysed as a test area. On the basis of such an analysis the 15 preceding proposals (mentioned in this and last week's report) for changes in the property tax system have been designed to prevent tax shifts which are either undesirable or too rapid to accommodate.

"The Region of Niagara contains most of the kinds of property that exist in Ontario, including single family residences, multiple rental residences, farms, commercial, industrial and government properties. Because of this, the Region has been chosen as a test area to analyse first, how market value assessment, using the present system of taxation, would result in large changes in property taxes for different kinds of property, and second, how the proposals for a new tax system would affect property tax distribution.

"In this analysis, farm residences and other farm property have been arbitrarily divided and are not assessed at marked value as proposed. The tax levy has been increased by the amount of taxes that local governments will have to pay in respect of their own property. The levy has also been adjusted upward to reflect increased taxes on provincial properties and corresponding decreases in provincial grants.

"The analysis has been based on the taxation of residences at 50 per cent of market value and all other real property at 100 per cent of market value and all other real property at 100 per cent of market value. Business assessment has been set at 50 per cent of property value. Furthermore, currently exempt government and non-government properties have been taxed at 100 per cent of market value. These percentages have been selected to obtain a distribution of property taxes in the Region of Niagara in keeping with the proposals. These percentages could change as further analyses involving other areas of the province are completed."

Results of the analysis of the Region of Niagara are given in a detailed table, but the most significant features may be summarised as follows: "Using the present tax system along with market value assessment, taxes on residences would increase $3.1 million or 7.4 per cent. Using the proposed tax system in conjunction with market value assessment, taxes on residences decrease by $10.2 million or 24.3 per cent.

"Net taxes on farm properties under the present tax system would increase by $8.5 million or 45.5 per cent. This compares with a decrease of $8.2 million or 18.2 per cent under the proposed tax system. Provincial payments in respect of farm properties would increase by $2.5 million.

"The realty taxes on commercial and industrial properties under the present tax system would decrease by $4.4 million or 20.4 per cent. Under the proposed tax system, this decrease would be only $1.2 million or 25.0 per cent, but increase by $.0.7 million or 7.3 per cent under the proposed tax system.

"Payments in lieu of taxes and payment of the Farm Tax Reduction by the Province each would increase $0.5 million. Under the proposed tax system, the increased cost to the Province of $1 million. Under the proposed tax system, the increased cost to the Province is $7.2 million. This increase is made up of $2.5 million in farm assistance and $4.7 million in payments in lieu of taxes. The cost to the Province includes payments in lieu of taxes on Ontario Hydro property.

"Payments in lieu of taxes on municipal property would change very little under the present tax system, but would increase $1.7 million under the proposed system.

"Schools are exempt from property taxation under the present tax system. Under the proposed tax system, schools would be taxed. In Niagara, the tax on schools would be $6.3 million.

"Taxes on previously exempt private property would be $4.1 million under the proposed tax system."

"Taxes on other property, which includes vacant land, would increase $2.2 million under the present tax system, as compared to $5.6 million under the proposed tax system."

I would like to stress the fact that I have made no attempt to give my own views on the Government's proposed Tax Reform. This has been quite deliberate. I felt it was important to give you the background information contained in the Budget papers, rather than my own view of the situation at this time.

See you next week.

Ministry approval is needed for improvements

The Minden District office of the Ministry of Natural Resources would like to take this opportunity to bring to the attention to anyone contemplating waterfront improvements involving the beds of streams, rivers, or lakes, that prior approval of this Ministry must be obtained.

Waterfront improvements such as dumping fill to improve beaches, dredging channels to improve waterfront access, and the damming of streams and rivers to create fish ponds have been carried out in a haphazard manner in the past. This has contributed to the degradation in the water quality and sensitive fish spawning areas in a number of lakes and streams in Ontario. Consequently, greater control measures were deemed necessary, and in the latter years enforcement has resulted in charges be laid, and the conviction of numerous violators who have carried out improvement projects on waterways without the proper authorization.

There are a number of Provincial and Federal Statutes, the provisions of which should be carefully considered before any waterfront improvement project is undertaken to ensure compliance with them. The following Provincial Statutes administered by the Ministry of Natural Resources contain provisions relating to lakes and rivers and the beds thereof: The Lakes and Rivers Improvement Act, The Beach Protection Act,

The Public Lands Act, The Game and Fish Act. Copies of these Statutes can be obtained from The Ontario Government Book Store, 880 Bay Street, Toronto, Ontario, M7A 1N8.

In addition to the above Provincial Statutes, engagement in construction or other works which involves navigable waters is also subject to the provisions of the Navigable Waters Protection Act. This Statute is administered by the Ministry of Transport (Canada), and for further information, please contact The Chief, Aids to Navigation, Ministry of Transport, Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, Canada.

In the interest of protecting our natural resources, we request that you assure that the relevant provisions of the above Statutes are complied with before undertaking any river or lakes improvement project, we suggest that you contact the Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden, Ontario, K0M 2K0, or phone 705-286-1521.

Seat belt law lowering numbers killed

Ontario's mandatory seat belt law and lower speed limit regulations continue to have a dramatic effect on the number of motorists killed and injured in traffic accidents, Transportation and Communications Minister James Snow said today.

"There were 66 fewer drivers and passengers killed and 6,765 fewer injured in motor vehicle accidents during the first six months of this year, compared to the same period a year ago," Mr. Snow said.

"Considering the death and injury toll has been on the increase for a number of years, I'm certainly encouraged by these figures.

"It's obvious the legislation is helping to reduce the carnage on our streets and highways. I hope the trend continues."

Statistically, 445 drivers and passengers were killed over the first six months of this year compared to 511 a year ago, a drop of 12.9 per cent.

The number of drivers and passengers injured is down 18.4 per cent. Altogether, 30,022 people were hurt in traffic accidents through the first six months of 1976, compared to 36,787 in 1975.

The total number of accidents is down slightly - 99,164 this year, compared to 100,057 in 1975.

Investigating thefts from automobiles

The Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police is investigating 10 cases of theft from parked motor vehicles.

On July 31 and Aug. 1 police investigated the theft of a number of items from parked vehicles at Hardwood Lake. There was a total of $1,254 stolen from eight vehicles at that time.

On Aug. 2 the detachment was notified of the theft of a total of $590 in goods from two parked vehicles on Glamor Lake.

The flows from both Burnt River and Gull River Watersheds were reduced slightly during the period August 2-9. No changes were made on the Mississauga Creek, Eel's Creek and Jack's Creek Watersheds, and flows on these streams are decreasing naturally from the flows of last week.

The evaporation from the Kawarthas decreased due to the cooler weather, and combined with recent rain, has reduced slightly the need for water from the Reservoirs. The lakes are now 74% full compared to 66% at this time last year.

Flows down the Otonabee River at the beginning of the week dropped below the usual minimum but were increased slightly to normal minimum flows as a result of the rains filling the Kawartha Lakes.

The rains have helped raise the lake levels in the Kawarthas but over most of the Reservoir area the rain was absorbed by the ground and had little affect on lake levels.

Police report minor injuries

A single car accident Sunday night on Highway 35 near Dorset resulted in on receiving minor injuries and $2,000 damage to the vehicle.

William J. Legge, 20, of Willowdale receiving bruises when the car he was driving rolled onto its left side as it entered the east ditch of the highway coming to rest upright.

Legge was charged with careless driving.

Three people received bruises as the result of a two car accident Sunday at 5 p.m. on County Road 7.
Injured were Regina Grassl, 35, of West Hill the driver of one of the vehicles. Oliver Grassl, 12 a passenger in that car and Penelope Wirth, 25, a passenger in a car driven by Joseph Wirth, 26 of Hamilton.

Good housekeeping for grain

There is no substitute for good housekeeping on a farm, especially when it comes to storing grain. Bins carefully prepared to receive the new grain could eliminate or greatly reduce insect damage in stored grain.
Bin surfaces should be carefully and thoroughly swept, taking extra pains with the ceiling, cracks and other crevices. These sweepings should be burned, otherwise they are liable to infest the new grain.

Feed grinding or grain handling areas should also be carefully swept, because they provide places for grain and insects to hide. Once there, it does not take the insects long to get into the stored grain.

While the bins are empty and clean, make those necessary repairs. Often the grain leaks into hard-to-get-at places, and this provides ideal conditions for new insect infestations to begin.
At least two weeks before filling the bin, spray the walls, floor and ceiling with an insecticide. Use 50% malathion (1 quart) of the emulsion, or (2½ pounds) of the wettable powder, in four gallons of water. Apply one gallon of spray per 1000 square feet. This will kill present and future insects.
Aerating the grain will reduce insect damage, especially during cold weather. It also removes high moisture areas where insects may be more numerous. As an added precaution, Mr. Pridham recommends lowering the grain temperature to 5°C. to stop insect activity.

There was $800 damage to the Grassl vehicle and 1,000 to the Wirth vehicle.
A two car crash at noon Saturday on Highway 35 miles south of Minden sent two people to Minden Hospital and resulted in $1,350 damage to the two vehicles.
Injured were Donna Miller, 19 of Mississauga a passenger in a car driven by Gary Venner, 19 of Toronto and John Crowe, of Richmond Hill, a passenger in a car driven by Neil Briggs, 23, also of Richmond Hill.
Luigi Dicintio, 19 of Downsview and Guy Douglas also of Downsview both received minor injuries in a single car accident on South Water Street, Minden early Saturday morning. There was $2,000 damage to the car which was driven by Dicintio.

Unemployment Insurance

The Honourable Robert Andras, Minister of Manpower and Immigration, issued a reminder today to the large number of workers between 65 and 70 years of age who have not applied for their unemployment insurance retirement benefit.
About 50,000 persons now eligible for the special three week retirement benefit have failed to apply. The figure represents about two-thirds of the total number of those eligible. After August 15, 1976, this benefit will no longer be available to persons in this age group.
The Unemployment Insurance Commission wants to make sure that this particular age group is made aware of this special benefit before it expires," Mr. Andras said.
In order to qualify, one must have worked and contributed to the unemployment insurance program for at least 20 weeks in the last year from the date of application. Some person may already be ineligible because of insufficient weeks of employment in the past year.

Removing coverage from the 65 to 70 age group was the result of Bill C-69, which was passed by Parliament last December. After August 15, only persons 65 years of age will be eligible for retirement benefits.
This change was made because of the improvements in other income maintenance programs available to persons 65 and over, such as the Canada and Quebec pension plans and Old age Security.
The Commission is now arranging with the Canada and Quebec pension plans to advise persons reaching 65 to apply for this benefit. Employers have also been reminded to stop unemployment insurance deductions for those turning 65.
All person 65 years of age and over, who have worked in the past year, should contact their local unemployment insurance deductions for those turning 65.
All persons 65 years of age and over, who have worked in the past year, should contact their local unemployment insurance office immediately to determine whether or not they qualify.

Advertising blitz

An advertising blitz to stimulate more tourist traffic to and in Ontario during August and early September is being launched in five major U.S. and six domestic markets, Ontario Tourism Minister Claude Bennett announced today.

Radio will be the primary medium for a concentrated, four-week advertising campaign, Aug. 2-29, aimed at markets in Syracuse-Elmira, Rochester, Cleveland, Toledo and Pittsburgh in the U.S., and Toronto, Ottawa, London, Kitchener, Hamilton and Kingston in Ontario.
Objectives are to promote visitor traffic to Ontario along with events of specific tourist interest during the period, Mr. Bennett said.

A survey of ministry field staff, travel association managers, commercial accommodation and tourist attraction operators reveals that tourism is down in most parts of the province compared to the same time last year, with northwestern Ontario the only large area showing improvement.

With a total budget of $125,000, the campaign will be directed to adults 18-49 years of age with emphasis on the 25-49 group, and will consist of a 60-second commercial mix of product, price, events and attractions designed to promote impulse travel. An integral part of the message will be repetitive mention of fast access to additional information via a telephone line.

21 accidents from Aug. 2 to Aug. 8

During the period from Aug. 2 to Aug. 8 members of the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police investigate 21 motor vehicle collisions and 86 general occurrences.

The detachment cruised 6,751 miles during that period. Eight compassionate messages were delivered, three break-ins investigated and four persons charged with boating violations involving too few or no life jackets in a vessel.

Gems of Truth

In our day and age when the term Christian is so sadly misused and misunderstood, it is very need full that we get a true Scriptural understanding of the what the Lord God says about it.

There is possibly no clearer and concise verse in all the Bible that defines a true Christian than the one found in first John and verse 12. Here it is! "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life". K.S.V. This verse could well be called the "Golden Text of the Bible". It stands on par with the better known verse found in John 3:16 in doctrinal importance.

To have the "Son" sets forth the way of true salvation, in as much that the "Deity of Jesus is involved, and it renounces every other way or means by which man might come to know God.

In all the writings of the Apostle John the "Deity" of the Saviour is stressed. To the man who was closest to Him and who knew Him best, there was no room for doubt that Jesus was God. This fact remains true to-day! Those who have believed His words about Himself and have accepted His claims of Deity at face value, never raise any questions about the "Virgin Birth" or the historical fact of the Incarnation. Doubt about this is rooted in ignorance of Jesus and His true nature. One cannot know Christ as the Scripture sets Him forth and question the fact that He was God's Son", not the offspring of Joseph. Thus, since "Eternal Life" is His possession and in His power to convey to others, only those who have the "Son of God" have life everlasting.

How simple is the theology any one needs, to be saved! One of the most common excuses that men give for their indifference to the church and its claims, is the fact that they are confused by the complicated theology of the professing Church. Who has the real truth and where do we find the right way in the maze of denominational theology?

Such objections can be easily answered. We are not saved by a course in theology, but by "he that hath the Son". As it was in the days of the early Church so it is with us. It does not require a mental giant to understand these words, "he that hath the Son".

The knowledge of God, (which is theology) begins when the mind is illuminated by the acceptance of the Son. This is God's order, salvation first, learning about the Godhead comes after that. It "must" be this way as Scripture declares that the "natural man" (meaning unsaved) cannot understand the things of the Spirit of God. 1 Cor. 2:14. How can one instruct a corpse? Without Christ one does not have life, neither understanding, as it relates to God. One must be born again to received life and thus be taught by the Spirit of God.

An unborn child is never a good student of the science of mathematics, neith can a sould not born again major in the science of the Almighty. It is only when Jesus is received as a personal Saviour that spiritual life begins to develop. First you learn "about Him", then you learn "from Him". In reality Jesus Christ in Christianity, and one is not a Christian until we have the "Son of God."

Let confusion be silenced, there is only "one" Son of God. And when you have the "Son", you will receive sufficient spiritual insight to see through the screen of denominational differences and be able to choose a place to fellowship where Jesus is worshipped as Saviour and Lord. You see, all assemblies, like people, have life only when they have the "Son."

Receiving the Son as Saviour is just as much an individual experience as it was to be born from parents. No one else can take our place in this. To "have the Son" simply means to believe in Him as the Son of God and the only One able to cleanse from sin. He alone gives life everlasting. Are you a Christian in fact and reality? God wants you to know! 1 John 5:13 (Address all inquiries to Box 46 Minden, Ontario) We may be able to help you.

Capacity crowd fills Woodbine Racetrack

A capacity crowd of 19,698 persons filled Woodbine Race Track in Toronto yesterday for the final session of the "Sacred Service" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mr. D. Mills of Toronto spoke on the question "Will Serving God Solve Your Problems?"

Mills outlined the problems of modern society: inflation, unemployment, food shortages in many countries and a breakdown in family life.

"Parents today have added worries," he said. "Their children face problems no other generation of young people ever had. These young people see the 'jungle' that the world has become, and many are disgusted with it and are afraid," he said.

Mills said one editorial called numerous opinions on family life by teachers, theologians and psychologists a "noisy mass of contradiction."

He said at one time it was thought that science would help lead way to that better world and solve many of mankind's problems. But now scientists themselves admit that science causes as many problems as it solves, if not more.

"In the July, 1899, issue of Scientific American ... it predicted that the automobile 'would have a fine influence on city life,'" Mills continued. "In the light of actual experience that prediction is laughable today, isn't it?" he asked.

"This same frustration is being felt in the medical field," he said. "At one time there were high hopes that modern medicine would conquer sickness and help lead to a better world. But sickness has not been conquered. In fact, some of the worst ailments such as cancer and heart disease are making the biggest increases."

And talking about law and order, Mills said crime is skyrocketing.

"And what about a world of total peace, with not locks, jails, police forces, armies or weapons of destruction?" he asked.

"Why the world is farther away from that than ever," he said.

Mills said that corruption in both government and business has also created problems for society.

"Polls show that confidence in human institutions is at an all-time low," he said. "Many people feel these institutions they once trusted aren't solving their problems, but often make them worse."

Mills pointed to 57 million prescriptions involving billions of pills last year as evidence of emotional instability. He said these were for one type of drug alone--tranquilizers.

"But then, whom can we trust? God?" Mills asked. "Do you believe he can help us with our problems now, and bring the human family into the kind of life we want?"

Mills said God's time for permitting man's foolishness has drawn near its end.

"All the evidence in fulfillment of Bible prophecy shows that soon God will put a stop to this experiment in man-rule," he said. "Indeed, we are very deep into the foretold 'last days'."

Talking about man's past record for designing and building a better world, Mills said man does not possess the ability, or right, to design on his own, a better world.

"Only God can do that," he said.

Mills concluded by saying that a new order is ahead, comprised of a beautiful earth, free of pollution, crime, hatred, war, poverty, sickness and death.

"Really, all things considered," he said, "there can be no doubt that serving God can help you with your problems. The question that remains is whether you want to serve him or not."

Consumers turn to conditioners

Ontario electrical energy consumers turne to their air conditioners for relief from June's above normal temperatures and, in the process, increased electrical consumption in the province by 8.3 percent over June 1975. Primary peak demand during the month was 12,497,000 kilowatts. This occurred at 11:55 a.m. Tuesday, June 15.

More than 39 percent of energy provided during June came from water power, about 20 percent, nuclear, close to 16 percent, coal, 5.6 percent, gas, 2.1 percent, oil, and 16.5 percent, purchases.

Export sales to the United States rose to 484,300,000 kilowatt hours during the month. Michigan was the largest purchaser.

A new 345 kilovolt transmission line was placed in service between Ontario and Michigan on June 3. This crosses the St. Clair River south of Hydro's Lambton generating station, near Courtright.

Hydro continued its summer maintenance program during the month and a number of large generating units were off line for routine inspection.

In Memoriam

PICKENS - In loving memory of a dear father and husband,
Joshua, who passed away
August 18th, 1975.

A year ago you left us,
You never said goodbye,
Silently we grieve
And brush away our tears,
In death as in life, we shall always be together.
To us who loved and lost you
The memories you left behind
Shall ever be cherished throughout the years.

Sadly missed and ever remembered by wife Mae and family.

RIEL - In loving memory of a dear mother Martha, who passed away August 13th, 1972.

God saw you getting weaker so he did what he thought best,
He came and stood beside you and whispered "Come and Rest."
It broke our hearts to lose
you, but you did not go alone.

For part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.
So treasure her, Lord, in your garden of rest.
For when on earth she was one of the best.

Sadly missed and always remembered son Leonard and Daughter-in-law Aileen and grandchildren.

In Memoriam

CRAWFORD - In loving memory of my dear sister,
Bernice who passed away
August 14th, 1972.

May the winds of love blow
softly
On a quiet peaceful spot,
Where the one I loved lies sleeping
And will never be forgot
No length of time can dim the past
Too many memories hold it fast
Today, tomorrow, my whole life through,
I shall always love and remember you.

Always remembered by sister Mildred.

LAPORTE - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Laura Mae, who passed away on August 14, 1971.

The rose still grows beyond
the wall,
And within our hearts we'll always keep
A special place for you;
Dear God, take a message,
Tell her how much we miss her
And give her all our love.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by husband
Eddie and children Junior,
Dale, Christopher, Marilyn,
Sandra and Susan.

McKELVEY - In loving memory of my dear mother,
Dossie who passed away
August 14th, 1973.

The golden gates stood open,
Three years ago today
With farewells left unspoken
You quietly slipped away.
Always willing to help others
When yourself should be at rest.
God broke my heart to prove to me.
He only takes the best.

Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter Mildred.

McKELVEY - CRAWFORD -
In loving memory of my dear
mother, Dossie McKelvey, who died August 14th, 1973,
my sister Bernice (McKelvey) Crawford who passed away August 14th, 1972 and my brother Buster who died
February 1st, 1975.

Three lights is from our household gone
Three voices I loved is still Three places are vacant in my heart
Which never can be filled.

Lovingly remembered by Audrey.

PEACOCK - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother Gladys who passed away August 9, 1974.

Our hearts still ache with sadness
And secret tears still flow
What it meant to lose you mom
No one will ever know.
Your weary hours and days
of pain
Your troubled nights are
past.
And in our aching hearts we know
You have found peaceful rest at last.

Lovingly remembered by husband Bob, children Joe Dorothy, Faye, Debbie, Robbie and their families.

AIB weekly surveys look at cost trends

The Anti-Inflation Board's weekly food price survey gives consumers a current look at food cost trends and keeps the AIB right up to date on market prices.

The survey, published monthly, is just part of the in-depth study of the Canadian food system carried out continuously by the AIB's food and agriculture division.

The AIB food index monitors 68 national brand food items, 18 house brands and 26 non-food items. Reporters in 14 cities, in every province as well as Whitehorse and Yellowknife, check prices weekly in supermarkets on Wednesday or Thursday and by Friday their results are in Ottawa where they are analysed, coded and fed into a computer for indexing.

Reporters gather information from five supermarkets in most cities, except Whitehorse and Yellowknife, and from eight supermarkets in Montreal. In Toronto and St. John's the reporting is contracted out to a private firm. In the other centres the reporters are hired on a part-time contract basis and trained by the AIB to do the job.

The AIB food index goes on step beyond monitoring the price of what people normally buy. It prices a "nutritious food basket" a selection of items to feed a family of four.

"This survey enables the AIB to be immediately aware of food price changes in supermarkets in every province. It is extremely important information in our investigation on consumer complaints," says Bruce Huff, an economist analysis and price surveying section of the Food and Agriculture Division.

"The system is flexible and we can quickly put the reporters on to other assignments if necessary. One thing we are monitoring, for example, is the change in unit pricing that occurs with metrification," he said.

The next move for the division will be publication of a whole-sale food price index. Prices for 173 items have been obtained with the voluntary cooperation of 54 processing companies in 14 cities on a weekly basis for several months. Computer programmers are now developing indexes for nine components and by late summer the Board will be ready to start publishing the wholesale index on a monthly basis.

Dr. Huff and a staff of four economists study price movement from the farm gate, through the wholesale and retail operations. Their examination of price spreads between market levels, and commodity price outlooks, enables them to anticipate or quickly evaluate price changes in wholesale and retail markets.

Canadian heads conservation

Arthur Latonnell, Director of the Conservation Authorities Branch, Ministry of Natural Resources, next year will become the first Canadian president of the Soil Conservation Society of America. He was named president-elect at the society's annual meeting in Minneapolis this week.

"The Ministry has long enjoyed an international reputation as one of the leaders in conservation and I am extremely pleased that Mr. Latonnell is the first Canadian to be appointed," said Natural Resources Minister Leo Bernier.

"His years of experience and his dedication to the science and art of good land use, I know, will be of great benefit to the society," Mr. Bernier added.

Mr. Latonnell joined the Ontario Government in 1954 as a resources manager with Ganaraska Region Conservation Authority. In 1957, he moved to the Metropolitan Toronto and Region Conservation Authority as a resources manager.

Two years later, in 1959, he was appointed supervisor of land use study section and in 1962 he became supervisor of the land use study section and in 1962 he became supervisor of field services.

In 1973, Mr. Latonnell was named director of the Conservation Authorities Branch.

He received his education from the Ontario Agricultural College—now the University of Guelph—where he earned a (BSA) in 1950. Three years later, he received his M.S. from Michigan State University.

Retarded working

Increased work and training opportunities for the mentally retarded were announced today by the Honourable James Taylor, Q.C. Minister of Community and Social Services.

A total of 144 additional training places throughout the province were provided in nine work-shop expansion programs approved in principle during June.

These include extensions to workshops in Timmins, Haileybury and expanded programs in Brampton, Cochrane, Oakville and Sundridge workshops, a Life Skills program in Listowel and a protected business - the Wooden Toy Company - in Oshawa.

"The Ministry already funds 137 workshops for the disabled in the province," explained Mr. Taylor. "This expansion program is part of our total commitment to integrated community living for the mentally retarded. We cannot expect people to work in the community unless we are prepared to provide them with the tools not only to compete but to achieve their highest personal potential".

During the current fiscal year, the Ministry hopes to create a broad range of community programs for the mentally retarded, including 1,000 accommodation places, 155 developmental day care places, 775 workshop and training places, 57 community support projects and an additional 62 protective service workers to help bring clients and services together. The funds for these services are part of a budget of $172 million, providing a wide range of programs that include residential facilities currently serving 7,000 mentally retarded people in the province.

"I feel sure we'll surpass our goal for workshop and training places," said Mr. Taylor. "We've already approved 290 new places to date, and another 420 are in process."

Life skills and work and training programs for independent community living as far as possible, explained the Minister. Some will pass through the programs into employment in industry. Others will need a sheltered environment in which to work.

"The emphasis is on integration with the community," said Mr. Taylor. "All the workshops we fund have a mixed population, I allocated total responsibility for workshop development to the Rehabilitation Branch of the Ministry, to achieve this integrated approach".

36 prov. trade missions planned

Thirty-six Ontario trade missions, scheduled for this fall and winter, will call at more than 50 countries, Industry and Tourism Minister Claude Bennett said today.

This brings the total number of missions conducted in the Division of Trade's '76-'77 program to 43.

In addition to the missions there will be seven marketing seminars, eight Product Introductory Presentations in which new products are shown to buyers across Canada. The ministry is also organizing participation in two international exhibitions in England and Germany.

The program is designed to assist Ontario companies develop marketing strategy, find new markets both domestically and around the world, advise on shipping, joint ventures and licensing arrangements, and encourage age turnkey projects.

An analysis for 38 trade missions conducted in 1974 shows that total sales generated reached almost $21 million.

Some 264 Ontario companies then participated in the mission program with 60 per cent initially receiving orders for manufactured goods.

Still in some stage of negotiation are an additional 23 per cent of the companies.

Based on an estimate of $50,000 gross sales per job, success of the sales missions resulted in the creation or saving of 400 jobs in the province.

Exports account for about 23 per cent of Ontario's Gross Provincial Product. Employment figures for the province estimate that 225,000 jobs are directly related to export production, the majority of these in the manufacturing sector.
